MILROY CHURCH WAS DEDICATED

Fourth Home of United Presbyterians Costing $12,000, Was Thrown Open to Public Yesterday.

COLLEGE PRESIDENT SPOKE

Congregation Was First Organized in 1828, Being First Denomination in County.

The new United Presbyterian church in Milroy was dedicated yesterday. The dedicatory service was held in the morning and the churches of Milroy and visiting delegations joined the United Presbyterians in opening their beautiful new building. The Rev. T. H. McMichael, president of Monmouth College, a United Presbyterian institution, delivered the dedicatory address and preached in the afternoon and evening.

It is estimated that 750 people attended the service in the morning. Many from this city, Greensburg, Clarksburg, Sandusky and surrounding towns were in attendance. The ladies of the church served dinner in the church basement at noon.

The church was built at a total cost of $12,000 and when completed the congregation was in debt $3,000. The church debt was raised yesterday by popular subscription and the church is now free from debt.

The United Presbyterians in Rush county organized their first church in Milroy, November 18, 1828. The charter members of this denomination were Alexander Innis, Christian Innis, James Innis, Elizabeth Innis, James W. Stewart, Ann Stewart, David Askew and Margaret Askew. The first church was built west of Milroy, where the cemetery is now located. The congregation had a rapid growth and a new church was built in 1847. This building was destroyed by fire and the third building was erected. The present structure, which is the fourth home of the United Presbyterians, was started in June, 1912.

The new building is of brick veneer, trimmed in Bedford stone, and consists of basement, which is in several sections, including cooking and serving parlors, heating room and assembly room; the main auditorium, built on the circle plan, and a large Sunday school room. The interior is well planned both for convenience and beauty. The building is heated by steam and lighted with electricity. The Rev. Paul Stewart has been pastor of the church for over two years.

INDEPENDENTS HAVE GAME

Locals Will Play Connersville Here
Tuesday Night.

The local Independent basket ball team will play the Connersville Independent team here tomorrow night. The Rushville team was defeated by Connersville last week and the locals expect to get revenge. The Connersville team is composed of former high school stars and the two teams are evenly matched. In the game at Connersville the Rushville team was outplayed but hope to come back tomorrow night. The game will be called at 8 o'clock and a large crowd promises to witness the contest.

Elder Archie Brown of Missouri is expected to preach at the Morgan Street Primitive Baptist church Tuesday evening. Elder Brown lived here and was pastor of this church in the years 1890 and 1891.

OPPOSED TO PORK BARREL

But Gray Wants $85,000 for Shelbyville Federal Building.

A Washington dispatch says that Congressman Finly Gray of Connersville, a representative from this district, has introduced a measure in congress asking for an appropriation of $85,000 to erect a federal building at Shelbyville. This is the first attempt on the part of Congressman Gray to get a "dig" in at the "pork barrel." It was only recently that he gave out an interview in which he said that his constituency need not expect anything because he was opposed to such tactics.

MAYOR BLACK GETS ON THE COMMITTEE

Rushville Executive Appointed to Assist in Putting Through Good Roads Legislation.

TOM MULL IS ALSO A MEMBER.

Mayor B. A. Black of this city has been appointed a member of the committee of one hundred by the good roads legislative committee. Thomas Mull is also a member of the committee.

The committee to see that good roads legislation is enacted by the legislature now in session in Indianapolis, represents the Indiana Better Roads Congress and other good roads organizations. The committee includes representatives of all classes of business activity in the State.

The appointment of the committee was one of the first acts of the legislative committee. They will ask for a bill which provides for a State highway commission and a uniform method of building and keeping up roads.

GEN. S. L. TRABUE TO INSPECT COMPANY

Local Uniform Rank K. of P. Members Will Attend Annual Ceremony at Newcastle.

GOING BY WAY OF SHIRLEY.

All members of Ivy Company No. 35, Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, of this city, have been invited to attend the annual inspection of the New Castle company at New Castle next Thursday evening. The local delegation will go by way of Shirley over the Big Four and will leave here Thursday afternoon at 5:26 o'clock.

Special interest is attached to the inspection there because of the fact that Samuel L. Trabue of this city, adjutant general on the staff of Arthur J. Stobbard, commander of the Uniform Rank companies of the United States, will be the inspector. Mr. Trabue was first appointed colonel on Gen. Stobbard's staff and then was promoted.

Col. Phelps of Newcastle is the inspecting officer in Indiana, but he does not care to inspect the company of which he is a member and the duties fall on the shoulders of Gen. Trabue.

L. B. Osborn and family have received word from Fred Osborn that he has arrived in Portland, Oregon after being held up in Seattle, Washington because of snowbound trains.

SCOPE OF CLASS IS MADE LARGER

Distinctive Line Against Printed Matter in Parcel Post Will Not Be Drawn so Closely.

AN ORDER IS RECEIVED HERE

Next Step May Be to Include Books.
Things Partially in Print to Be Accepted.

According to an order received by Postmaster Charles Frazee from the postoffice department at Washington, the rules regarding mail sent under the fourth class rate, which is the parcel post division now, are not so stringent as they once were.

Still another exception may be made and printed matter included in the parcel post rate, according to recent news from Washington. It is believed that the step taken in the order just received is only the first one and that similar ones will be made so as to make the scope of the parcels post broader and of more value to the public.

Printed matter relating to an article of merchandise, says the order, which it accompanies, is regarded as descriptive of the article within the meaning of section 483, Postal Laws and Regulations, and therefore is a permissible inclosure with such article when mailed as fourth class matter.

Printing on an article of merchandise or on its wrapper, or on a label pasted to it in such manner as to form an integral part of it, does not affect the classification of the article as mail matter of the fourth class, the order continues.

Catalogues in which two or more forms are bound, as well as catalogues or other printed matter having samples of merchandise permanently attached to them, may be accepted for mailing at the fourth class rate of postage.

Order forms, address tags, report forms, letter and bill heads, insurance and legal forms, cards and other similar supplies, regardless of the amount of printing on them, blank check books, receipt books, and other books of forms, partially in print, may be mailed as fourth class matter.

Directions for taking medicine written on a label attached to a bottle or package containing the medicine or enclosed with it, are permissible and do not affect the classification of the parcel.

HE DEARLY LOVES A FAT MAN

Factory Inspector Asks Law to Enforce Use of Larger Seats.

John G. Walsh, State factory inspector, will cause to be introduced in the present legislature a bill to provide against any one other than employees, police or firemen standing in the aisles of any theatre or moving picture show. Another provision of the bill will keep builders of theaters from placing theater chairs closer to each other than thirty inches from back to back, and each seat must have eighteen inches between the arms seating space. Some of the moving picture shows now have chairs so narrow that it is impossible for heavy persons to sit down, Mr. Walsh asserts.

Mrs. Maude L. Rogers is ill with pneumonia and pluerisy at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. J. C. Alger, corner of Morgan and Tenth streets.

DESTROY HOME WITH DYNAMITE

People of Community West of Moscow Take Law in Their Hands.

LOUDEN'S HOUSE WRECKED

Visitors of Dark Night Arouse People for Miles Around by Explosion.

Neighbors of Mrs. Alice Nora Loudon, a resident of Old Middletown, Shelby county, located a short distance west of Moscow, took it upon themselves to rid the community of what they thought was an undesirable inhabitant, and under the cover of darkness planted some dynamite in Mrs. Loudon's home and ignited it. Fortunately for Mrs. Loudon she was not at home, having gone to Waldron a few weeks ago for a long sojourn. She took most of her household goods with her, but neighbors were not sure that she intended to make Waldron her permanent home. They wanted to make sure that she would.

The house was wrecked. The force of the explosion was felt for miles around and windows in the home of Thomas Benson, who lived nearby, were shattered. His home shivered and shook from the effects of the explosion.

Although the explosion was late at night people came for miles around to learn the cause of the unusual interruption of the quiet routine in the community. The wrecked house was mute testimony of what had happened. It is said that few questions were asked, because most of the people who were routed out of bed by the noise knew the cause. It is not known whether the Shelby county authorities will make any investigation.

It is said that Mrs. Loudon was objected to as a citizen and that some one took it upon themselves to destroy or damage the house so that she would not move back.

Only recently the woman brought criminal proceedings against a certain male resident of the southwest part of Shelby county, but the case was dismissed, as a compromise of some nature was effected. The woman is a widow.

A few years ago David Loudon was found dead in bed at Waldron, following a drunken spree in which he and another man had indulged, and his companion slept by his side as he lay a corpse.

BOOTS BY PARCEL POST

St. Paul Man Calls Up by Phone and Saves Money.

Yesterday a St. Paul man wanted a pair of rubber boots. He was unable to get the right size at any of the St. Paul stores, so he stepped to a telephone and called up a shoe merchant at Shelbyville. He obtained the boots and ordered them shipped by parcels post. The boots were delivered an hour later at a cost of 14 cents for postage. The telephone and postage only amounted to 24 cents as against 36 cents for car fare and three hours of time.

NOW HAS ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The new electric light plant in Milroy was put in operation last night for the first time. Many of the residences and stores are using the "juice" and the old gas street lamps have been discarded. Charles Witters is the manager of the new plant.

DAMAGE SUIT SENT HERE

$10,000 Case Will Be Tried in Local Court.

The ten thousand dollar damage suit of Mrs. Lennie Beall against the Indiana Union Traction Company has been sent to this county on a change of venue from the Henry county circuit court. Mrs. Beall was injured in a grade crossing accident near Summitville. The complaint states that she attempted to drive across the company's track and because of obstructions failed to see an approaching car. Mrs. Beall barely escaped with her life and claims to have been injured permanently. The case was filed in 1909.

IT'S JUST PLAIN FRANK HALL NOW

Rushville Man Steps Out as Lieutenant-Governor of Indiana at Ceremonies Today.

THAT HAPPY FACULTY OF HIS

Brief but impressive ceremonies marked the inauguration of Lieutenant-Governor William P. O'Neill, of Mishawaka, in the senate chamber this morning, with both houses present, preceding the inauguration of the new Governor, says the Indianapolis News today. In his address Mr. O'Neill summed up briefly what his policies would be during the session.

Frank J. Hall, of Rushville, who retired from the office to private life, received many handshakes. Mr. Hall left official life with the kindly regard of everybody, as he did not have the faculty of making enemies while Lieutenant-Governor.

The inauguration took place after the senate had met with the house in the canvass of the vote, and Mr. O'Neill had been declared elected. Judge John W. Spencer, of the supreme court, administered the oath.

USED TO CATCH FISH ALONG BEN DAVIS

Now Charles A. Murray, of Denver, Colo., is Arguing Cases Before
U. S. Supreme Court.

VISITS FRIENDS HERE TODAY.

Old-time residents of Rush county along Ben Davis Creek may remember a red-haired farmer boy named Charles A. Murray, who caught fish and muskrats along the old stream forty-five years ago. Mr. Murray, who now lives in Denver, Colorado, was in Rushville a short time today while on his way to Washington, D. C., to argue a case before the supreme court of the United States.

After his experiences along Ben Davis, Mr. Murray was a student in Fairview academy and later a teacher in the McMillin neighborhood. A few years after that he was graduated from DePauw university—then Asbury university—and began the practice of law in Connersville, of which city he later became mayor. Mr. Murray moved to Denver twenty-three years ago and has not since had an opportunity to witness the improvements that Rushville has made.

HAS FUND OF $98 FROM SEAL SALE

Rush County Society Clears Good Sum to be Used to Prevent Tuberculosis.

GETS 75 OF THE PROCEEDS

Total of $131.53 Collected as Result of Campaign During Holidays.
$78.92 from Rushville.

If every person in Rushville had purchased a Red Cross Christmas seal from some person representing the Rush County Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, the sales would not have been as large as they were in the city. Instead there many generous people who bought many more than one, and there were a greater number of people who did not buy any.

Rushville leads all the townships in the sale of seals with a total of 7,892. Ripley township, where Mrs. A. O. Hill of Carthage was vice-president, sold 1,439. Miss Jessie Kitchen was vice-president in Rushville and had charge of the sale.

The total receipts from the sale of the seals in Rush county amounted to $131.53. There were not quite 13,153 seals sold, because in many instances people gave money and did not take an equal number of seals. The Rush county society believed that it was entitled to the extra that was given toward the cause, and divided with the State association only the amount which resulted from the sale of seals.

When the local society was organized, it was arranged that one-fourth of the proceeds should go to the State society and the remainder should be devoted to the study and prevention of tuberculosis in Rush county. According to this basis the State association will get $33.31 and $98.00 is left for the Rush county society to expend.

The principal intent of the local society will be to get literature in the hands of the people who are afflicted with the white plague and to prevent other members of the family from being affected by it.

There are many ways in which the fund can be used to advantage. The society will attempt to get in touch with every home where there is a case of tuberculosis. The fund is not large enough for any attempt to be made to send those afflicted to a different climate, but they can be taught the best methods to prevent it from spreading through their family.

For instance, the president of the society says, there may be cases where sputum cups should be in use, and in those cases money from this fund can be used. Other cases may arise where the afflicted person should be sleeping in a tent. In case the patient is unable to provide one, the local society will.

Noble township was third in the list of the townships selling the highest number of seals. The vice-president, Mrs. May Wellman, reports that an even thousand were sold there. Walker township was next with 850. Miss Mary Mull was vice-president. Anderson township was next highest with 734. Mrs. Margaret Morton was the vice-president.

Ralph Lord, vice-president of Center township, reports that 698 were sold there. Una Greenwood, vice-president of Washington township, reported the sale of 460. 80 were sold in Union township, where Mrs. Will McMillin was vice-president.

Mrs. Maude L. Douglas of Knights-town has been granted a divorce from her husband, Darwin B. Douglas, who is now a resident of California. She was granted the custody of her daughter.

INAUGURAL OF NEW GOVERNOR

Samuel M. Ralston Chief Executive of Indiana.

A FITTING SETTING PROVIDED

Imposing Lobby of the Hoosier Capitol Was Gaily Decked With Flags and Bunting When Governor Marshall Retired and Governor Ralston Was Inducted Into Exalted Office of State's Chief Magistracy.

Indianapolis, Jan. 13.—The close of Governor Marshall's term and the beginning of the administration of Samuel M. Ralston was marked today noon, at that hour the oath of office being administered to the new governor. The exercises incident to the inauguration began about 11:30 o'clock. Soon after 11 o'clock Governor and Mrs. Marshall, riding in an automobile, went to the Denison hotel to meet Mr. and Mrs. Ralston and accompany them to the statehouse. The inauguration took place from a stand which had been erected at the northwest corner of the south lobby of the statehouse. The decorations, simple yet effective, consisted of flags festooned from both the second and third balconies and the inaugural stand. Several dozen palms were placed on the stand and in the executive parlors.

In front of the inaugural stand, and at one side, 400 seats had been placed for the accommodation of the 150 legislators, state officials and their wives. No seats were provided for others, but there was standing room for several hundred.

The program began with the playing of "America" by the Indianapolis Military band. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. O. H. Carmichael, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Lebanon, of which the new governor is a member.

Following an address by Governor Marshall, the oath of office was administered to Mr. Ralston by Judge E. W. Felt of the Indiana appellate court, who was a classmate of the new governor when they attended the Central Normal college at Danville.

In introducing his successor, Governor Marshall said:

"The one great wish of my life, I would not call it an ambition, has been accomplished. For years I thought it to be only the beautiful dream of a child. I awoke four years ago to find it a reality. I go hence at the mandate of the people of the republic to assume new responsibilities and to discharge new duties. Whatever may be the measure of my performance, here, in this most sacred spot, I pledge to you people of Indiana my endeavor to merit the opinion that he tried to the highest ideal of an honorable Hoosier; to be worthy in character of the very best of Indiana's civilization, though he lacked in knowledge, wisdom and understanding."

As soon as he had taken the oath Governor Ralston began his inaugural address, which was not of great length. He pledged himself "most solemnly to the faithful discharge of high official duties." He assumed, he said, "that the Democratic majority of the present legislature will abide by and promptly proceed to carry out the last platform declarations made by its party in this state. This will include an efficient primary election law and a general revision of the road laws. Not to carry out this platform would be a betrayal of the people's confidence."

he declared. The new governor reviewed the progress of the legal struggle over the Tom Marshall constitution, stating that he believed "the facts show the people want a new constitution, and personally I favor a constitutional convention." Governor Ralston concluded his address by asking "all with whom I shall be associated in an official way to aid me in giving the people a money-saving and a public-serving administration."

The exercises closed with the band playing "On the Banks of the Wabash" and the benediction by the Rev. Mr. Carmichael.

The inauguration of William P. O'Neill as lieutenant governor preceded the inauguration of the governor. The oath was administered to the lieutenant governor in the senate chamber. Immediately following the exercises a reception was tendered the governor and Mrs. Ralston in the executive parlors.

MAKES ALCOHOL TEST ON PET PIGS

OFFSPRING ARE INJURED.

Investigator Shows How Future Generation May Be Stunted and Diseased or Actually Denied Existence by Use of Alcoholic Drinks In Present Generation—Insanity Threatened.

Yielding to a craving for alcohol is taking a step toward race suicide and doing a cruel wrong to unborn generations is the opinion of Professor Stockard of Cornell university.

Professor Stockard has satisfied himself that drinking imperils the future of the human race through experiments with guinea pigs. He described the results of his investigation into the part alcohol plays in bringing about racial degeneration in an article in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

His investigation shows that alcohol may affect the offspring through either parent. It was in order that records of degeneration, statistics on insanity and the great quantity of other contributed evidence could be verified by actual tests that the doctor began his experiments on lower animals.

Dr. Stockard took several guinea pigs and gave them an alcoholic treatment by an inhalation method. First he mated males that had been alcoholically treated with normal females. Then in the maternal tests alcoholic females were paired with untreated males.

Never Completely Intoxicated.

None of the animals were ever completely intoxicated, but were kept in a state of chronic alcoholism.

Before the actual experiments were begun nine matings of normal animals in the same group gave forth nine living litters of seventeen vigorous young.

Then began the alcoholic tests. Forty-two matings were tried when the animals were alcoholized. The resulting offspring numbered only nine living animals, five of which were stunted.

In the paternal tests there were still-born litters and early deaths.

Practically the same results followed when the maternal tests were made. In that case only the female was under the influence of the intoxicant and the male in its normal condition.

However, when matings were made with both the animals under the alcoholic stimulant, in almost every case no offspring or stillborn litters resulted.

In fourteen matings of alcoholic parents a single offspring was born. But this one died at a very early age, suffering from terrible convulsions.

The deaths of the unhealthy young in general followed symptoms of nervous disorders.

MRS. WILSON VS. NEW DANCES

President's Wife Will Bar Extreme Forms of Dancing.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the president elect, does not approve of "turkey trotting" or other extreme forms of dancing, and there will be none of it in the White House while she is there. She made this clear recently when, in conversation with an intimate friend, she said:

"Of course I cannot regulate the dancing at the inaugural ball, if the ball is given, but future events in Washington where this mode of dancing is permitted or encouraged will not have my sanction. The twostep and waltz I love to see."

Mrs. Wilson particularly objects to elaborate dress and heartily disapproves of women smoking and drinking cocktails.

As Mrs. Wilson's daughters share her opinions on these subjects, the social events of the younger set of Washington doubtless will follow along these lines.

PLANS FOR FLIGHT TO POLE.

Captain Bartlett to Try Out Newest Aeroplane For Venture.

According to reports received from Boston, Captain Bartlett of the Peary north pole party, who is enthusiastic with the idea of visiting the pole by aeroplane, will try out his plans this winter at Bar Harbor, where the frozen lakes and in some instances frozen bays will closely approximate the conditions of the far north.

A. V. Wilson, a local aeroplane inventor and former aeronaut, has been in consultation with Captain Bartlett and has virtually obtained his promise that he will visit Mount Desert island this winter to experiment, taking a modern aeroplane.

Captain Bartlett plans to take a machine to Cape Morris K. Jesup, which is but 381 miles from the pole by land. From there it is but a question of four hours' flight, the captain holds.

She Seeks French Presidency.

Mlle. Marie Denizard of Amiens, a well known suffragette, announces herself as a candidate for the presidency of the French republic.

Mlle. Denizard says she has no illusions and knows she will not be chosen to succeed M. Fallieres, but that she is coming forward "just to see what effect a woman's candidacy will produce."

WM. ROCKEFELLER'S PHYSICAL INABILITY

The Subject of Test By Government Physician.

Miami, Fla., Jan. 13.—Wanted as a witness before the Pujio money trust investigating committee, William Rockefeller, trembling as if with palsy and apparently very weak, landed here Sunday from Nassau. Mr. Rockefeller, his wife and son, William, jr., were the first passengers to leave the boat. An automobile was waiting for them, and they were met by Dr. Chappell, Mr. Rockefeller's physician, and Percy Rockefeller. The party was driven to the Royal Palm hotel, where a short time afterward the millionaire was examined by Dr. C. W. Richardson, an expert on throat diseases, on behalf of the government, in the presence of Dr. Chappell and Mr. Rockefeller's two sons.

It is impossible to learn the result of the examination, but it is said that Mr. Rockefeller is partly paralyzed in the lower jaw, preventing free speech, and that the party will leave today direct for New York. This indicates that his contention of physical inability to testify as a witness has been sustained by the examination of the government's doctor.

On the trip from Nassau Mr. Rockefeller remained in his stateroom. On leaving the boat he came down the gangplank unassisted, but leaning heavily on his cane. The officers of the steamer report him as being in apparently a feeble condition.

DISPUTES AMERICAN CLAIM

London Brings Out Beauty Model to Vie With Miss Scheel.

London, Jan. 13.—London claims that it has a woman nearer the proportions of the Venus de Milo than Miss Scheel of Brooklyn, in Miss Marjorie Watson, a West End dressmaker's model, whose measurements are vouched for by Ethel Bailey, the well-known artist. Her measurements are: Height, 65.75 inches; head, 22.4; neck, 13; chest, waist and hips identical with the measurements of the Venus de Milo; thigh, 22, and calf 13.4. Miss Bailey adds: "Miss Watson's head is quite Grecian. Her complexion is perfect and needs no aid from art. She has light brown hair and blue laughing eyes."

Miss Watson says she has lived the ordinary life of other girls. She has never gone in for physical training, but rides a bicycle and swims.

Big Suffrage Meeting Planned.

New York, Jan. 13.—A great combination meeting of all local suffrage organizations has been planned for the evening of Feb. 17 at Carnegie Hall. The purpose is to fix in everyone's mind the present status of suffrage and its prospects in every state in the Union. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, the national president; Miss Jane Adams and Mrs. Carrie Catt will be the speakers.

The Ever Ready Sir Ernest.

New York, Jan. 13.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, the English explorer, who is now on a visit to this country, was a guest at a banquet the other night when the waiters struck. Sir Ernest offered himself as a waiter, and he helped serve the dinner.

EDISON'S "SPEAKING MOVIES."

Inventor Will Soon Produce His Wonderful Kinetophone.

Improved motion pictures that talk will be introduced to the world in a few weeks by Thomas A. Edison. It has been demonstrated that the inventor's kinetophone, over which he has been working for the last four years, is now in readiness for public service.

The kinetophone is an instrument that produces the voices of the figures on a moving picture film in harmony with their actions. Thus an entire play or a musical comedy can be presented with appropriate vocal or orchestral accompaniment wherever a white screen can be raised against a wall.

The operas of "Faust" and "Il Trovatore," it is announced, have been chosen for the kinetophone's debut.

RUSSIAN SERFS ARE FREED.

Last Vestige of Oppressive Condition Abolished by New Law.

The council of the empire in Russia has adopted a law abolishing the last vestige of serfdom.

When the rescript of emancipation was issued in 1861 the Caucasus was excepted from its provisions on account of special conditions there, and temporary transitional measures were instituted pending the adoption of the most suitable method for giving the serfs their freedom. This transitional stage now, after half a century, has been terminated, though there was still opposition to its abolition.

Premier Kokovtsov personally appeared before the council of the empire to urge the adoption of the new law. It already had passed the duma.

WEDDING TRIP IN AN ICEBOX.

Newly Married Pair Travel in Refrigerator Car.

A wedding trip in a refrigerator car with the bridegroom and bride beating their way is the latest escapade related at Wilmington, Del. Henry Hoffman and Miss Daisy Ray, who were married recently, rode from Philadelphia to Reading, Pa., fifty-eight miles, in the icebox of a refrigerator car.

They were discovered by trainmen and were handed over to the police when the train reached Reading. Their pleas got their release, however, and enough money was raised to pay their fares to Shamokin.

No Developments In Peace Negotiations.

WAR'S RENEWAL INEVITABLE

At Least, This Is the Opinion of the Thoughtful Observers Who Daily Have Been Watching the Course of Great International Game Now Being Played on the Checkerboard of European Politics.

London, Jan. 13.—Owing to the unexpected claim of the Albanian representatives now in London who are opposing the powers' idea of autonomy for that country under the suzerainty of the sultan and advocating their absolute independence, although they are willing to go into an alliance with Turkey, observers see trouble for the powers.

Nothing has developed in the deadlock between the allies and the Turks over the question of the surrender of Adrianople and the Aegean islands.

One observer quotes M. Daneff, the Bulgarian delegate, who is regarded as the leader of the representatives of that country here, as saying that he fears a renewal of the war is inevitable.

Attention seems to be largely centered on Constantinople, where a ministerial crisis would surprise no one. It is thought that if the cabinet of Kiamil Pasha falls, the Young Turks will get into power and that the war will be resumed forthwith.

May Strike Their Pocketbook.

Constantinople, Jan. 13.—It is expected that the note from the ambassadors to the powers to Turkey in regard to accepting the terms offered by the allies will be presented today. It is stated that the only menacing clause in the note is one which declares that unless Turkey accepts the proposals of the powers the latter will withhold financial help for the Ottoman government, which they would otherwise be willing to give.

Albanians Ready to Fight.

Belgrade, Jan. 13.—The newspaper Pravda says the Albanians are preparing for war with Serbia. Six thousand well armed Albanians already are assembled at Elbassan for this purpose and others are gathering. It is assumed that the Servians will not get out of Albania without severe fighting which may be indefinitely prolonged.

KILL WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Terrible Atrocities Laid at Door of Infuriated Turks.

Athens, Greece, Jan. 13.—Muslims massacred thirty women and children and pillaged and burned 120 houses in the village of Keramisza, in the Turkish province of Epirus, a short distance from the Greek frontier. The victims were driven out of their flaming homes and took refuge in a cavern. They were pursued by the Muslims, who first tortured and then slaughtered them. In the village of Portopia and Nipero, in the same region, a number of notables were massacred and many houses burned.

THEIR ELECTION DECLARED

Formal Canvass of Vote Settles Outcome of 1912 Campaign.

Indianapolis, Jan. 13.—The Indiana legislature met in the house chamber this morning formally to canvass the vote on president and vice president and on governor and lieutenant governor. Under the provisions of the law the Wilson and Marshall electors were declared elected in Indiana and Samuel M. Ralston of Lebanon, for governor, and W. P. O'Neill of Mishawaka for lieutenant governor, both Democrats, were declared to be elected.

This was preliminary to the meeting of the electors in the house chamber at noon. It also led up to the inauguration of the governor and lieutenant governor. Ralston, O'Neill and the fifteen Democratic electors were not actually "elected" until the Indiana general assembly solemnly announced the result of the vote of Nov. 5 last.

The ascertainment of the vote of the state of Indiana will be made known to Secretary of State P. C. Knox at Washington and the vote of Indiana on president and vice president will be published in legal form in a Washington newspaper, just as the ascertainment for forty-seven other states are being printed as formally announced.

Wholesale Arrests Threatened.

Tipton, Ind., Jan. 13.—Following a riot on a traction car from Elwood, when Conductor Simpson knocked out two drunken men, Mayor Compton obtained information that two young men had purchased whisky in a tailor shop here, later giving it to minors. The prosecuting attorney has a score of affidavits for guilty persons, and wholesale arrests will be made.

Steamer Uranium Strikes In Halifax Harbor.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—Within a quarter of a mile of the Chebucto headlight and fog station at the entrance to Halifax harbor, the steamer Uranium, bound for New York via Halifax, struck the reef in thick weather at 11 o'clock Sunday morning. Captain Eustace was maneuvering for a pilot at the time. The spot where the Uranium struck is nine miles below Halifax and the only means of communication with the port was the telephone in the light keeper's house. Assistance was telephoned for and the government steamer Lady Laurier, the Bridgewater and other craft put off for the wreck. There were 880 passengers on board, also 500 tons of cargo for New York and 200 tons for Halifax. Of the passengers 640 are for New York and 240 for Halifax. One hundred are cabin passengers and the remainder steerage. The Lady Laurier took off the women and children first and then men were transferred to the Bridgewater.

The transshipment was effected in surf boats. All the passengers were clear of the Uranium by 5 p. m., and have since reached Halifax safely, but the captain and crew still remain on board. The ship hangs by her bows on the reef and the captain evidently hopes eventually to get off.

BROTHERS' FATAL QUARREL

Fourteen-Year-Old Lad Killed by Sixteen-Year-Old Brother.

Middleton, Conn., Jan. 13.—Murdered by his older brother because he refused to go down the street with him on an errand, the body of fourteen-year-old Edward Sjogren was found buried beneath a pile of rocks about 200 yards from his home in the village of Portland. The boy had first been strangled and then his body riddled with bullets. He has been missing since last Wednesday. The other brother, who is suspected of the crime, left town the morning after his brother disappeared, and no trace of him has been found. Neighbors recall now that when last seen they were quarrelling over the performing of an errand. The brother who is suspected of the crime is sixteen years of age.

Will Move to Washington.

Washington, Jan. 13.—Powell Clayton, who has served as Republican national committeeman from Arkansas for forty years, has resigned and will move his residence to this city. Mr. Clayton has been an ardent Republican since the formation of the party. He was governor of Arkansas from 1868 to 1871 and United States senator from 1871 to 1877. He was American ambassador to Mexico from 1897 to 1905.

They Didn't Like Her.

Shelbyville, Ind., Jan. 13.—A two-room house in Middletown, a small hamlet southeast of this city, was destroyed by dynamite by residents of the vicinity. The owner, Mrs. Nora Loudon, forty years old, had incurred the displeasure of the community by her mode of life since the death of her husband, who was found dead in bed a few years ago. She was not at home.

National Fanciers' Club.

Indianapolis, Jan. 13.—Domestic fowls of almost every description, some of them valued as highly as $1,000 each, are on exhibition at the National Fanciers' club show being held in Tomlinson hall, and which is to continue until Friday night. More than 3,000 birds are on display.

MODERN SURGERY SUCCESS IN WAR

Hundreds of Lives Saved In Balkan Conflict.

FOREIGN MISSIONS SPLENDID

United States Medical Expert Reports 28,000 Wounded Cured Out of 35,000. X Ray a Big Factor—Only Twenty-five Amputations—Turkish Aim Is Proved to Be Deadly.

Modern hospital methods have saved thousands of limbs and hundreds of lives in the Balkan war, according to Major P. C. Fauntleroy of the medical corps of the United States army, who has made a careful study of the Bulgarian military hospitals. His observations give a vivid picture of the surgical side of the conflict.

"Thirty-five thousand wounded have been brought north of the frontier since the fighting began, and of these fully 28,000 have been cured," he said.

"This record is remarkable when it is considered that 80 per cent of the wounds were infected before the patients entered the hospitals owing to the utter inadequacy of the field hospitals. The soldiers were not supplied with bandages, and their wounds were dressed clumsily if at all. Many had to make their way unaided more than a mile from the battlefield before they could receive care. Despite this, of the 25,000 cases which have been attended in the Sofia hospitals I have heard of only twenty-five amputations and thirty resections.

"The foreign missions, which have devoted themselves to the care of the wounded, cannot be too highly commended, for without them conditions would have been terrible. As it is, Germany, Austria, England, Hungary, Bohemia, France, Greece and Russia are represented here. The last named country has been especially generous both with men and equipment and successfully cares for 120 beds.

Bring Up to Date Instruments.

"The foreigners have brought many up to date instruments to work. The X ray, for example, is a feature of the hospital practice in this war. By means of it the surgeons have been able to determine the exact location of a bullet and the injury caused, thus showing immediately whether there must be an operation and making probing unnecessary.

"Another feature is the suturing of nerves and blood vessels, always with good results. A large number of men shot in the head have recovered. Of the trephining cases 90 per cent have been successful, and early operation has saved many men from muscular disability, loss of voice and other paralytic symptoms.

"Seventy-five per cent of the Bulgarian wounds were caused by Turkish shrapnel, which appears to have been delivered with great accuracy. The Turks throughout seem to have been fighting from entrenched artillery positions. The Bulgarians, on the contrary, advanced impulsively and were unable to bring up the artillery in time to take part in the battles.

"Nevertheless I have found few saber wounds and only two bayonet wounds, which indicates that the Bulgarians did not follow up their victories quickly and that such hand to hand fighting as was done was largely fatal. The battles appear to have increased in severity as the campaign advanced. Bulgarian officers even compare Lule Burgas with the battle of Mukden, in the Russo-Japanese war. "Seventy per cent of all the wounds received were in the hands and feet. The worst wounds were from fragments of shrapnel; then came those from rifle bullets and after that those from shrapnel balls.

Bullets Splinter the Bone.

"The Bulgarians use a round nosed, steel jacketed bullet like that of our old Krag-Jorgensen rifle. The Serbian bullet is similar, but smaller. Both of these completely splinter the bone or greatly damage the liquid containing vital organs if fired anywhere within 800 yards. The Turks use a pointed, steel jacketed bullet, like that recently adopted by the United States army. Such bullets aimed at men 1,000 yards away would hit intervening cavalry at any point in their flight, whereas other bullets at the apex of their flight would pass over the cavalry's heads. These bullets begin spinning the instant they strike, doing fearful damage.

"The ratio of killed to wounded in this war appears to be about the same as usual—one to five. My own observations confirm those of other medical men concerning the fine physique of the Bulgarian soldiers. Their wounds close and heal with marvelous rapidity, owing to the freedom of the blood from alcohol.

Chases a Deer In an Auto.

A. Kantrowitz, a dealer in ice cream at Tarrytown, N. Y., while driving his automobile through John D. Rockefeller's estate at Pocantico Hills recently saw a deer. Kantrowitz chased the deer for half a mile along the road, and then it jumped aside and tried to go through a fence. Kantrowitz turned his car after the animal and rammed it up against the fence, but the deer worked loose and dashed off into the Rockefeller woods. Kantrowitz says he could have killed the deer if he had had a club.

Value of Separate Court.

The value of a separate court circuit for Rush county can not be overestimated. An effort is now being made to obtain the passage of a law in this session of the legislature which will cause court to be held here the year round with the exception of three months in the summer.

A separate court for the county would be beneficial to the city, considered from a financial standpoint. People are attracted here from all parts of Rush county and adjoining counties when court is in session. There is scarcely a day in term time when a great number of visitors are not compelled to come to Rushville on business.

With court all the year Rush county would be prepared to take care of many change of venue cases which would undoubtedly come here. More cases and more business would put more money in circulation. Fees in all foreign cases would have to be paid here.

In addition to all this, from the standpoint of lawyers and their clients, a separate circuit would be beneficial. The judge would have more time to devote to the various phases of court business that come to his attention. He could give more attention to juvenile cases than he has in the past, a situation to be hoped for. Under the present routine the judge is generally so pressed for time that he has to appoint special judges to hear juvenile cases and has to rush through other court business.

The only extra cost of a separate court would be the salary of the judge, $3,600, and the salary of the prosecutor, $500, and what few fees he might collect. This would be no special burden to Rush county taxpayers since the salary of the judge and prosecutor is paid by the State, and that whole amount apportioned among the taxpayers of the State would most certainly not be noticed at taxpaying time.

Advertised Goods Cost Less.

The suggestion is sometimes thoughtlessly made that the buyer has to pay for the cost of advertising.

It would be reasonable for some small store to claim, because a large store employed more clerks, that the patrons of the large store had to pay an extra price because of these additional clerks.

Almost any man by persistent advertising, justly proportioned to his business, can double his trade. If he did so, it is not likely that his rent, taxes, book-keeping cost, insurance, and similar items would be doubled. Very likely they might not be increased one-half.

Every article has to be charged something for these general expenses, which keep running along whether you do much business or not. Consequently if a merchant doubles his business, and increases his fixed charges less than half, the amount to be charged to each article to cover these expenses is much less. Hence instead of advertised goods costing the public more, they cost the public less.

The steamship that was carrying J. P. Morgan and Nelson W. Aldrich grounded in the fog. That shows what a mistake was made in not inviting Mr. Morgan to take the helm.

INDIANA FRUIT GROWING STATE

Figures of United States Census Bureau Show Nearly 5 Million Bushels Raised in Year.

REASON FOR THE DECREASE

The total of orchard fruits produced in 1909 in Indiana was 4,714,000 bushels, valued at $3,709,000, according to the U. S. census figures. Apples contributed considerably more than one-half this quantity, peaches and nectarines ranking next in importance. The production of grapes in 1909 amounted to 12,817,000 pounds, valued at $288,000 and that of nuts to 440,000 pounds, valued at $7,000. Most of the nuts consisted of black walnuts.

The production of all orchard fruits together in 1909 was 49.3 per cent. less than that in 1899, and the production of grapes also declined. The total value of orchard trees increased from $3,166,000 in 1899 to $3,709,000 in 1909, and that of grapes decreased from $350,000 in 1899 to $288,000 in 1909. It should be noted that the values for 1899 include the value of more advanced products, derived from orchard fruits or grapes, such as cider, vinegar, dried fruits and the like, and may therefore involve some duplication, while the values shown for 1909 relate only to the products in their original condition.

It's Funny

How minds will differ. It would be absolutely impractical to pave the city with gold bricks, is the statement a friend of mine made to me and he gave this reason:

Hoboes from all over the country would come here and extract them as they needed them and it would keep our streets torn up almost all the time.

What method do you think could be devised to remedy this condition?

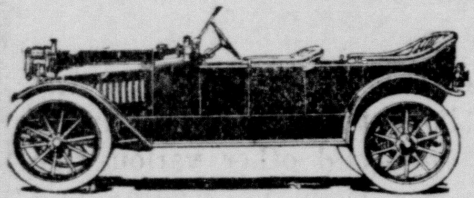

I am open for suggestions.

He Comes Up Smiling

By Charles
Sherman

They were all gathered around the table, except the Watermelon and Alphonse. Alphonse still stood by the door, hat in hand. He was merely a paid hireling. His master's affairs were none of his. The Watermelon still sat on the dresser and swung his feet. The predicament was only one of the many he was more or less always involved in and not worth thinking about. Batchelor and the police did not worry him that night. It was too early.

"Why not eat something before we go?" he said. "We have been here about an hour now, and another hour won't make our crime any the worse."

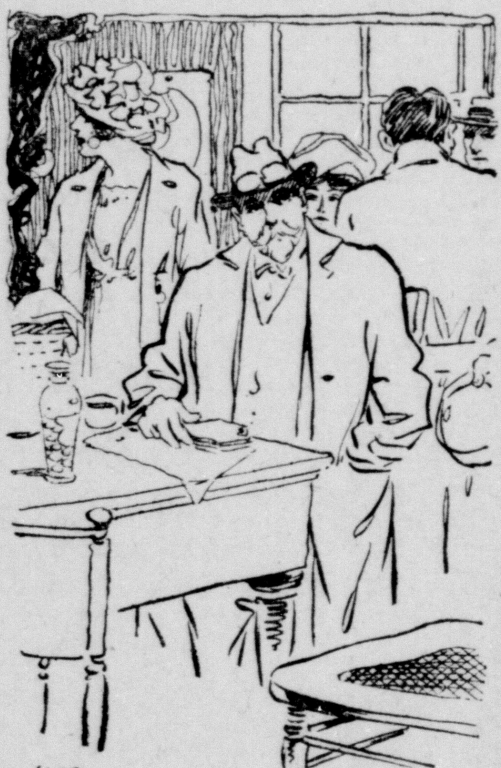

"Yes," agreed Henrietta promptly, surprised at her own depravity. "Let's," and again she took out the plates and napkins.

"Suppose they come back," softly whispered Billy.

Instinctively, they all glanced at the door, and Henrietta paused with her hands on the edge of the basket.

The Watermelon laughed. "You ain't worrying because you broke into another's house," said he. "What's fretting you is that you may be found out."

"It's awful," acknowledged Billy. "I feel funny in my stomach and have creeps up my back."

"So have I," said Henrietta, and nodded grimly.

"Do what you please," said Bartlett.

How Any Woman Can Cure INDIGESTION

Most stomach remedies are make-shifts—they give relief but afterward the stomach is just as weak, just as unable to digest the food as it was before.

Women especially should not depend on relievers only. MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets not only give prompt relief but they put strength and elasticity into the stomach walls and cause the digestive juices to act naturally.

They do more; they force the digestive organs to supply the blood with pure nourishment which is carried to the muscles, nerves, brain and skin. Result: healthy muscles, strong nerves, clear head, and clean skin. F. B. Johnson and Company guarantees MI-O-NA Stomach Tablets—50 cents.

"But don't get caught."

"They won't come," said the Watermelon. "They have been gone for quite a time and aren't coming back."

"Ah, my dear Holmes," said Henrietta, "explain your deductions."

"They've been gone long because there is so much dust on everything and the house smells so close. They won't be back tonight because none of the neighbors have been in to leave anything for them to eat and there aren't any chickens in the chicken-house. Alphonse would have stirred 'em up if they had been there."

"Suppose some one passes and sees the light," suggested the general, tempted to the breaking point by the dainty supper so near at hand and the thought of the terrible apology of a meal they would get at the dilapidated hotel they had passed in the village. And above all things, the general loved his meals.

"We are at the back of the house and it is almost twelve. Every one is in bed and those who aren't are drunk and wouldn't be believed anyway."

"It's five miles to the village," added Bartlett with no apparent relevance.

"Aw, be game," encouraged the Watermelon. "Be sports."

"Just being hungry is enough for me," declared Henrietta, taking the last of the edibles from the basket.

CHAPTER XI.

A Night's Lodging.

The general hesitated. It was not lawful, not right. They had broken in to another man's house and should leave at once. But all his life he had lived by rules and regulations, followed life's blue book as persistently and as well as he did the auto blue book. Now he was lost, the blue book was gone and there was an indefinable pleasure in letting go the rules and regulations that had governed him so long. In the warm July night, with the youthful, foolish Billy, and the irresponsible Watermelon, the general's latent criminal tendency came uppermost, that tendency in all of us once in a while to do wrong for the sake of the adventure in it, for the excitement and fascination, rather than for any material gain. In the experience of being in another man's house unknown and uninvited by the owner, of listening for the rattle of a wagon turning in at the gate, for the crunch of a foot on the gravel without, there was an exhilaration he had not known for years. He felt that a bold lawlessness which he had never had and had always felt rather proudly was only kept under by the veneer of civilization, was rising in him and that he was growing young again. He had always believed that if the occasion arose, he could out-raft Raffles.

"It will not do any harm," he thought with the remains of his old conscience. "We will go directly after supper."

It was a jovial meal. The conversation waxed merrier and merrier. The general grew younger with every mouthful and Bartlett more and more genial. He forgot that he was kidnapping a famous young financier, and told all his enjoyable stories with the skill of many repetitions. When they had finished, no one for a while made any motion to clear up the table preparatory to leaving. Billy, with her chin on her hand, thoughtfully gathered up the crumbs still on her plate and transferred them to her mouth. Henrietta leaned back in her chair, her hands clasped behind her head, gazing dreamily at the flickering lamp. Bartlett and the general smoked in contented silence and the Watermelon rolled a cigarette with his long, thin fingers, his old clay pipe discarded with his rags. Alphonse was already asleep. A snore from his corner drew their attention.

The Watermelon licked his cigarette paper and glanced at Billy. "He's got his nerve," said he, putting the cigar

"I don't think that any of us have been lacking in nerve tonight," said the general, with no little pride.

"You're dead game sports," admitted the Watermelon. "Let's stay all night."

"It's morning already," said Henrietta.
"We have stayed all night."

"Let's sleep here," said the Watermelon. "We can leave early."

"Er—er—are there any beds?"
asked the general.

"Father, father," cried Henrietta,
"you are backsliding."

The general protested, immensely flattered.

The general always looked back on that night and the week that followed with wonder, thankfulness and pride.
When the Watermelon, waiting for no further consent, picked up the lamp and started to investigate the bedrooms, the general was the first to follow him.

They found two bedrooms on the ground floor, and though the beds only had mattresses and pillows on them, even the Watermelon did not suggest a search for sheets and pillow cases.
The girls took one room, the men the other.

The Watermelon was having the time of his young life. Abstract problems of right and wrong did not trouble him. He took each event as it came and never fretted about it when it was over or worried about the next to come. Batchelor would probably try to make trouble, but if Bartlett were as successful as he hoped to be,
and kept on getting lost, there was little danger from that source. Bartlett, desiring secrecy as much as the Watermelon, had effectually silenced the enterprising reporter at the hotel.

It was early when Bartlett awoke.
He yawned and stretched, glancing with amusement at the general, still raising melodious sounds of slumber from the couch at the foot of the bed.
Then suddenly he became aware that the place at his side was empty, that the Watermelon was gone. He crawled stealthily out of bed and dressed, filled with misgivings.

CRUELTY IN PERU WORSE THAN THAT FOUND ALONG THE KONGO

American Investigator Has Shocking Report of the Rubber Atrocities.

Another Expedition Brings Back Fifty Pre-Incan
Skulls and Bones.

REMARKABLE stories of Peru were brought to this country recently by two expeditions which had gone on different missions into the fastnesses of the South American country. The heads of these expeditions were Stuart Fuller, formerly American consul at Goteborg, Sweden, who was detached to make an investigation of the alleged cruelties practiced upon the Indians in the Pu-tunayo rubber district, and Professor Hiram Bingham of Yale, who searched for pre-Inca remains.

Both these gentlemen told of horrible conditions in the southern clime.

Mr. Fuller declined to tell the nature of his report, which he sent to Washington, but he said that the investigation revealed a greater barbarism in the treatment of the Peruvian Indians than that practiced in the Kongo.

Mr. Fuller intimated that the Monroe doctrine might be invoked in the Pu-tunayo situation. He was unable to say what the procedure might be, as the United States never had faced a situation like it. In the case of the Kongo outrages this country was concerned because of the antislavery treaties.

District Along Amazon.

The Putunayo district is a remote region at the headwaters of the Amazon to the east of the Andes mountains, which separate it from Lima, Peru. The region can only be reached from that city by traveling north via Panama and thence to the mouth of the Amazon, continuing to Iquitos, the most important inland city of the entire section, and then still farther inland.

In 1896 the rubber possibilities of the region were first discovered, and the concession for collecting the sap was given by the Peruvian government to the Arana Bros. The district was inhabited by a harmless, peaceful race of Indians, who were employed in tapping the trees and collecting the milk.

A campaign of most wasteful exploitation of the rubber possibilities followed, in which the Indians were reduced to a state of slavery by the most shockingly barbaric methods.
Results only were asked without regard to the future development of the rubber possibilities.

Not only men, but women and children, were expected to furnish their share of the supply or suffer the most horrible torture.

In 1905 thirty-six Barbadian negroes, British subjects, were imported as deputies, and the cruelty increased.

About this time the rubber concession was sold to the Peruvian Amazon company, a British trading concern of good standing. It is not known whether it had any knowledge of the means employed to produce results, but the system continued.

Unbelievable Tortures.

The list of tortures and methods of cruelty used is too long for publication. Indians who couldn't or didn't produce rubber were suspended with their arms twisted and bound over their heads and their feet swinging while they were flogged. Two hundred lashes a day constituted no unusual flogging.

JUST LOOK AT THESE CAPERS OF OUR FRISKY NEW PARCEL POST

New York, Jan. 4.—Dan Beard, artist and boy scout, on opening a package received by parcel post at his home, in Flushing, found the carcass of a sleek, fat opossum ready for roasting.

The possum was a gift to Artist Beard from his friend, Ernest Thompson Seton, and was sent by Mr. Seton from his country place, "Windy Gould," at Cos Cob, Conn. Mr. Beard intends holding a feast, to which a select number will be invited.

Gary, Ind., Dec. 30.—Parcel post troubles at the Gary postoffice began today.
W. H. F. Parry, a brick dealer, sent two big wagonloads of heavy paving bricks to be mailed out the first thing Wednesday morning. There were 1,000 bricks, each wrapped separately. Their total weight was 6,000 pounds. The bricks are being mailed out as samples.
When the wagons arrived Postmaster
John W. Call and Chief Clerk Joseph Tracey began to carry in the bricks, but they gave out after two hours' labor and other clerks had to be put at the job.

Harrington, Del., Jan. 3.—While solving for poultrymen the vexatious problem of how to hatch chickens in winter Josiah Hopkins, who lives near here, presented a new puzzle for postal officials to solve.

As a New Year's gift to a favorite men and women and setting them afire was a pastime. Many were burned at the stake.

Professor Hiram Bingham, who had been on an exploring expedition for six months in Peru, searching for pre-Inca remains in the region of the Andes, returned, accompanied by Professor Herbert T. Gregory and Dr. George F.
Eaton, both also of Yale. The expedition originally had eleven members, and all but two have now returned.

Professor Bingham, who looked as pale as a yellow fever immune, said that the interior of southern Peru was being desolated by a succession of plagues, including smallpox and typhus fever, and that the government was taking few steps to check the ravages of the scourges. Dr. Eaton was ill with camp fever, and Professor Gregory was also incapacitated from work for several weeks.

Professor Bingham brought back with him fifty human skulls of a pre-Incan period and many skeletons, as well as thirty cases of curiously wrought bronze tablets and pieces of pottery, and Dr. Eaton collected fifty cases of bones to be sent on later, and the fossilized skeleton of a prehistoric horse. Professor Bingham nearly lost his life on one occasion when his mules stampeded and the Indians forsook him. He was for two days and nights roaming about on the slopes of the snow clad mountain, Palcoi, with barely any food and the chance of being devoured by wild animals if he lay down and went to sleep.

Was Third Expedition.

This was Professor Bingham's third expedition to Peru, and its object, he said, was to intensify the work that had been left incomplete. This time he was able to devote considerable time to the examination of the remains of the 150 one story stone dwellings, temples and city walls of the ancient city of the Peruvian tribesmen, known as Machu Picchu, constructed of carved white stone, and $2,000 was expended in excavating parts of the ruins of the city which had become covered with heavy undergrowth.

At Machu Picchu were found the fossilized bones of prehistoric man, skulls and skeletons worn down to dust and hardly distinguishable from the gravel in which they were found. Professor Bingham has brought back with him several bronze tablets to see whether the quality and shape of them and the characters on them may lead to more being learned about the original inhabitants of this continent.

Opposition by the government of Peru was so continuous and so severe and uncalled for, Professor Bingham said, that it was improbable that the scientific work they had begun would be continued.

"We had great difficulty," the professor said, "in getting our cases of specimens out of the country and were delayed seven weeks by the tedious objections of the Peruvian government.
At first the officials would not allow us to take anything at all; then they said that we could take half of what we had; then they permitted us to take what they did not want. At last they were persuaded to let us take all the bones and fossils which we had collected, but the decree of the government was as insulting as it possibly could be."

Pouring kerosene over the bodies of granddaughter in a down state town Hopkins packed two dozen eggs in a fireless cooker and mailed them by parcel post on Wednesday. When the package arrived twenty fluffy chickens appeared, very much alive, together with four dead ones.

The postmaster at the receiving office did not believe baby chickens were mailed under the new law, but he delivered them to the addressee rather than disappoint her.

Downingtown, Pa., Jan. 3.—Upon opening a bag of mail this morning Postmaster Josiah Phillips found that in transit the lid of a can of sauerkraut sent by parcel post had been knocked off and the contents spilled through the mass of mail matter.

Needless to say there was no scramble on the part of the office force for the privilege of sorting the mail in this particular pouch.

Washington, Jan. 3.—Senator Atlee Pomeroy of Ohio is seeking for a senate office building employee who left a smeary package of scrambled eggs on his mahogany desk yesterday. They were not cooked, and they spread themselves over the adjacent territory.

The eggs were youthful, fresh and intact when they started out from Massillon, O., by way of parcel post to gladden the heart of the senator.

A HONEYMOON PAIR FINISH LONG WALK

From Colorado Springs to New York Since Sept. 21.

New York, Jan. 13.—With a letter from the mayor of Colorado Springs, Col., a young man in a khaki suit, and a young woman in a corduroy suit, and their dog Dudie, a fox terrier, called on Mayor Gaynor today to announce that they had walked from Colorado Springs in 89 days, 1 hour and 45 minutes, and had won a prize of $500.

The couple, P. L. Fison, who is twenty-seven, and his wife, Mrs. Beryl Fison, who is eighteen, made the walk as a honeymoon trip. They were married a few days before Sept. 21, when they left Colorado Springs, the Pike's Peak Athletic club having offered $500 for the couple that could walk to this city inside of ninety days. Fison and his bride did not have many hours left in which to win the money.

"We didn't have a very hard trip," said Fison, "and the distance estimated was 2,100 miles. We averaged between twenty-five and thirty miles a day."

Fison said he gained eight pounds and his wife three. She started out in a khaki suit, but found it too cold and changed to corduroy. Only once did she show any physical sign of stress—crossing the Allegheny mountains in eighteen inches of snow.

Fison is a painter and decorator. His wife had never been out of Denver until she was married. He and his wife say they paid all their expenses by selling postcards and lecturing.

The Gould Wedding a Family Affair.

New York, Jan. 13.—The marriage of Miss Helen Gould and Finley J. Shepard will take place Wednesday, Jan. 22, at 12:30 o'clock, at Miss Gould's country place in Tarrytown, and will be witnessed by a small gathering of relatives and intimate friends. Miss Gould's brother-in-law and sister, the Duke and Duchess De Talleyrand, and their young son, Prince De Sagan, of Paris, are coming over for the wedding, having sailed last Saturday on the Mauretania.

ABDUCTION DID NOT CARRY OUT

Chauffeur Foiled Plans of Designing Pair.

RAN MACHINE INTO MONUMENT

Allentown Still Is Gasping at the Boldness of the Attempt Made by Young Society Favorite and His Alleged Accomplice to Carry Off the Pretty Daughter of One of the Town's Most Prominent Citizens.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 13.—That justice may be meted out to the abductors of his daughter, Miss Anna E. Steckel, Reuben P. Steckel declares that he is willing to spend half of his fortune and the remaining years of his life.

Samuel Sinclair, jr., supervising inspector of state highways, the love-crazed scion of a leading Chester county Quaker family, who is the alleged principal in the kidnapping scheme, and R. Walter Starr, the Lehigh university student, who was the accomplice in the sensational affair, were both admitted to $3,000 bail and left immediately for Philadelphia. They will have a hearing next Thursday afternoon.

Sinclair, who is a handsome young fellow, athletic in appearance and apparently of the finest manners, had entree to Allentown's most fashionable family circles, but the stories now going the rounds are to the effect that after a few calls he made himself obnoxious to his fair hostesses, with the result that in dozens of cases he was informed that his room was preferable to his company. He not only was a member of the city's swellest social organizations, including the Lehigh Country club, but was a member of the Bible class of the First Presbyterian Sunday school.

Sinclair asserts that the young heiress was in the scheme, but weakened. Starr refused to talk except to say that he was made the scapegoat of what he says he thought was only a friendly adventure. The taxicab in which the young woman was being taken away by two men crashed into the soldiers' monument at Center Square, and led to the arrest of the alleged abductors.

According to the story told by Miss Steckel she had rejected the advances of Sinclair on numerous occasions, but he persisted in trying to call on her. Saturday she was returning from a shopping tour and noticed a taxicab standing near the front of her home.

As she was about to enter her home Miss Steckel said she was seized by two men whom she recognized as Sinclair and Starr, and was forced into the cab despite her struggle and cries.

The driver of the taxicab, in taking up the story at this point, said he had been engaged by the two men "for a wedding." When the girl was forcibly thrust into the cab, he said, he suspected something was wrong and when given the order to drive "fast into the country," he determined to take the party to the police station. The chauffeur drove into Allentown's main street at terrific speed, but in approaching Center square he was unable to turn his machine quickly enough and crashed into the monument. A policeman took the entire party to the police station. Sinclair said that the girl loved him and that they were to have been married in spite of the father's objections, but that the girl went back on him.

Defense Blames Ancestors.

Bloomfield, Ind., Jan. 13.—To establish the probability of hereditary insanity was the main effort of the defense in the trial of David Archer for the killing of his wife. It was proved by a number of witnesses that the defendant's mother was in an insane hospital; that one of his grandmothers had attacks of mental derangement, and that his father was considered at times unbalanced. A number of his schoolyard companions testified that Archer was always of abnormal mentality; that he could do nothing toward the mastery of his studies and never got beyond the second grade in school.

Self-Defense Plea Sustained.

Greencastle, Ind., Jan. 13.—"Not guilty" was the verdict returned by the jury in the case against Thomas Howard, charged with manslaughter, growing out of the killing of Roscoe Yopp. The verdict was returned after an hour's deliberation. The plea was self-defense. Yopp was shown by various witnesses to have attacked Ralph Boone and Howard the evening of Sept. 7. Several testified that the attack was unprovoked. Howard stabbed Yopp after the latter had knocked out Boone and had attacked Howard.

Blamed the Trainmen.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 13.—Blame for the wreck in the Union depot train sheds which caused three deaths has been charged to the engineer and fireman of train No. 20 and the conductor and baggage man of No. 8. The four employees were suspended.

The Robbers Escape.

New York, Jan. 13.—Neil Henderson, a paymaster in the employ of a plastering company, was held up and robbed of $2,500 on his way to pay off the men at work on a building at Seventy-ninth street and Park avenue. The robbers escaped.

FOR DELICATE CHILDREN

A Mother's Letter to Mothers.

Mrs. E. W. Cooper of Bloomfield, N. J., says: "My child, seven years old, had a bad cold and was weak and quite run down in health. She had been in this condition for about six weeks when I began giving her Vinol. It was a wonderful help to the child, breaking up her cold quickly and building up her strength beside. I have also found Vinol a most excellent tonic for keeping up the children's strength during a siege of whooping cough."

Vinol is a wonderful combination of two world-famed tonics—the medicinal body building elements of cod liver oil and iron for the blood, therefore it is a perfectly safe medicine for children, everything in it is printed on every package, so mothers may know what they are giving their little ones.

Therefore we ask every mother of a weak, sickly or ailing child in this vicinity to try Vinol on our guarantee. F. B. Johnson and Company, druggists, Rushville, Indiana.

P. S. Our Saxo Salve is truly wonderful for Eczema. We guarantee it. (Advertisement.)

I, James W. Anderson, Trustee of Richland Township, Rush County, Indiana, do solemnly swear that the preceding report of Receipts, Disbursements, Balances and Service Account is true and correct, as I truly believe, and I further declare that the sums with which I am charged in this report are all of the sums received by me, and that the various items of expenditures credited have been fully paid in the sums stated, and without express or implied agreement that any portion thereof shall be retained by or repaid to me or any other person. And I further declare, and swear, that I have received no money, nor article of value, in consideration of any contract made by me as Trustee of this Township.

JAMES W. ANDERSON,
Trustee of Richland Township.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, the Chairman of the Advisory Board of this Township, this 7th day of January, 1913.

JACOB W. HITE,
Chairman Advisory Board.

MINUTE "MOVIES" OF THE NEWS RIGHT OFF THE REEL.

According to late reports, William is as oily as John D.

Striking garment makers are not engaged in peace work.

A passenger who boarded the water wagon a few days ago complains that it lacks springs.

A Newport resident found $25,000 in bills and advertised it, but nobody has claimed the trifle.

A Colorado legislator publicly kissed another at the opening session. Both, however, are women.

An acrobat in Trenton prison tried to escape by climbing the lightning rod. He got the hook.

A suffragette says the lesson of the hike to Albany is the necessity of hiring a man to teach them to march.

Senator Gallinger adds a phrase to current speech. Denouncing an army officer, he declared the man's "dendrites were twisted." Dendrites are the working part of the brain.

President Yuan in a statement asserts that China will pay all she owes. There was a suspicion that with the government edict for a change in costume to western dress the tailors would get the money.

Woodrow Wilson will wear a spread eagle and an American shield for a stickpin when he becomes president. As president of Princeton he wore the Princeton seal, and as governor of New Jersey he wore the state coat of arms.

A Will in Rime.

This will, although written in rime, was probated in County Dublin, Ireland:

All earthly goods I have in store
To my dear wife I leave for evermore.
I freely give; no limit do I fix.
This is my will, and she executrix.
THOMAS ANDREW ARMSTRONG.
The "earthly goods" amounted to $6,500 worth of property.

Capped.

Yankee, boasting of the great heat experienced in America—It's so hot it burns the wings off the flies! Pat—That's nothing to what it is in Ireland! We have to feed hens on ice cream to keep them from laying boiled eggs!—London Telegraph.

Quits Likely.

TO DO AWAY WITH GRADE CROSSINGS

Railroad Commission Proposes Law to Eliminate Causes of Many Fatal Accidents.

11,000 OF THEM IN INDIANA

The Indiana railway commission recommends a law to eliminate grade crossings throughout the state. It proposes that the provisions of the act be similar to a bill presented to the legislature of 1907, though it suggests that if the legislators do not desire to take such advanced steps the commission be given power for the present at least to cause an elimination of the most dangerous crossings, the commission to decide what are dangerous ones.

In support of its arguments for elevated tracks and viaducts the commission calls attention to the fact that there are 11,000 unprotected railroad crossings in Indiana and that 50 or 75 persons are killed each year at grade crossings.

The adoption of the Michigan act regulating the shipment of explosives is recommended. This provides for safer methods of shipping high explosives. It is recalled by the commission that nine persons were killed four years ago at Sanford, Ind., in an explosion of dynamite being transported in a freight car.

LAST MEETING.

The closing meeting of the week of prayer services at the United Presbyterian church will be held this evening. The Rev. A. W. Jamieson will take for his subject, "A Life as a Pattern."

A marriage license has been issued to Charley Drenner and Maude Caynes.

SECRETARY IS TO SPEAK HERE

Dr. George H. D. Beeman of Greencastle Will Come in Interest of World Conference.

TO BE HELD IN PORTLAND, ORE.

Rushville Ministers and School Heads Are Actively Interested in Coming Event.

The Rev. Dr. George H. L. Beeman of Greencastle, Indiana, has come into a most important post in connection with the great Second World's Christian Citizenship Conference to be held at Portland, Oregon, June 29th to July 6th, 1913.

He has been appointed secretary of the National Reform Association for the State of Indiana and will visit every city and town in the State in conducting his campaign for delegates to the Second World's Christian Citizenship Conference.

Dr. Beeman will speak at Rushville on January 19 and among those in Rushville who are actively interested in this vast affair are the Rev. A. W. Jamieson, the Rev. John B. Meacham, Prof. J. H. Scholl, Ralph Payne, E. B. Thomas, the Rev. W. H. Wylie and the Rev. C. M. Vocum.

In Pittsburgh, Pa., last month more than 7,000 persons attended the various sessions of the National Reform Association, called to indorse the Second World's Christian Citizenship Conference and it is expected that fully 8000 will attend the Christian Citizenship Conference to be held at Philadelphia, Pa., January 28, under the same auspices.

The Rev. Dr. Beeman is one of the most aggressive men in the ministry of America and in his present post is in a position to do much in the general awakening of the public conscience.
